

WASH YOUR HANDS.

Handwashing is the single most important step in stopping the spread of germs.

The CDC recommends washing your hands as one of the best defenses against the spread of germs and, if no soap and water is available, using a hand sanitizer.

